For Whom The Bell Tolls . . .

The 1986 Crusader Staff would like to recognize a unique member of our faculty and community for all his dedication and service, Mr. Philip J. Forte.

In the last eight years at Cardinal Gibbons, Mr. Forte has been an instructor in Mathematics, Data Processing, and French, an actor and assistant director in the Drama Dept., moderator of both the newspaper and the Parent's Club, Chaplain of the Football Team, Chairman of the Math Dept., . . .

The 1986 edition of the "Crusader" is therefore dedicated to Mr. Forte, the "man who wouldn't say no", in appreciation of all his hard work in making Cardinal Gibbons what it is today.

Gibbons Leaps Into the Future

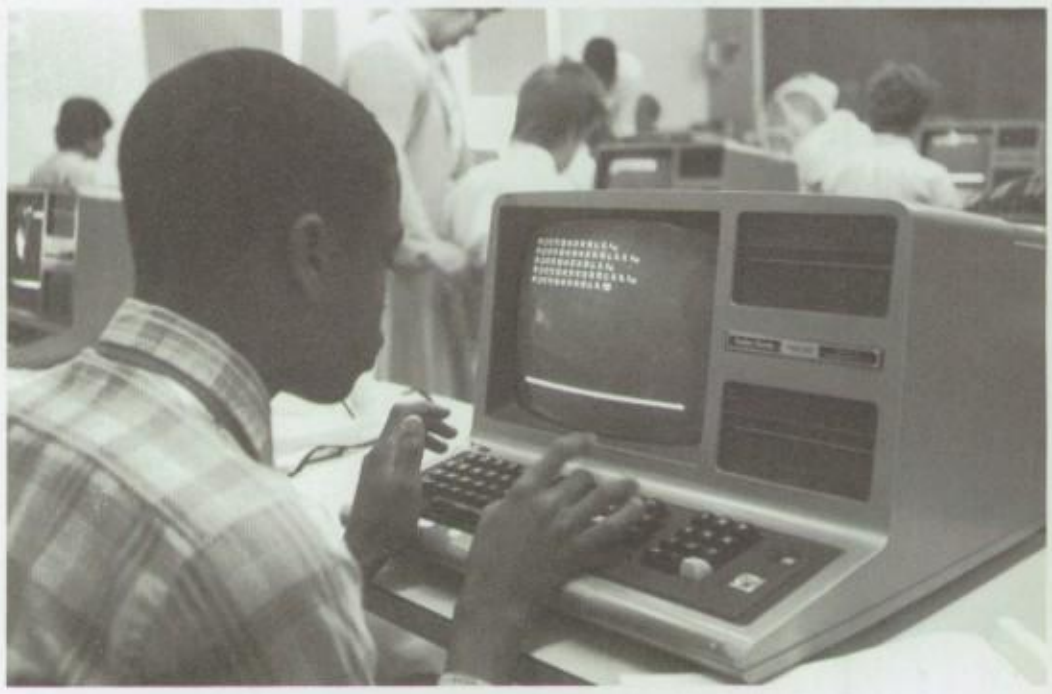
Mrs. Kucharski and Bob Eder watch over Brian Kelley, Tim Moore and Tyrone Waters.

This year brought many changes in the use of the schools computers. The title of the Freshman English course was changed to Composition as the computer became an integral part of the course. Students, with the help of the various senior volunteers, wrote and revised all of their compositions on the computer.

The school updated their "K" capacity, added a hard disk to store data and purchased a high speed printer. Two IBM PC's were added for the use on the Crusader and in Mr. O'Brien's Economics classes.

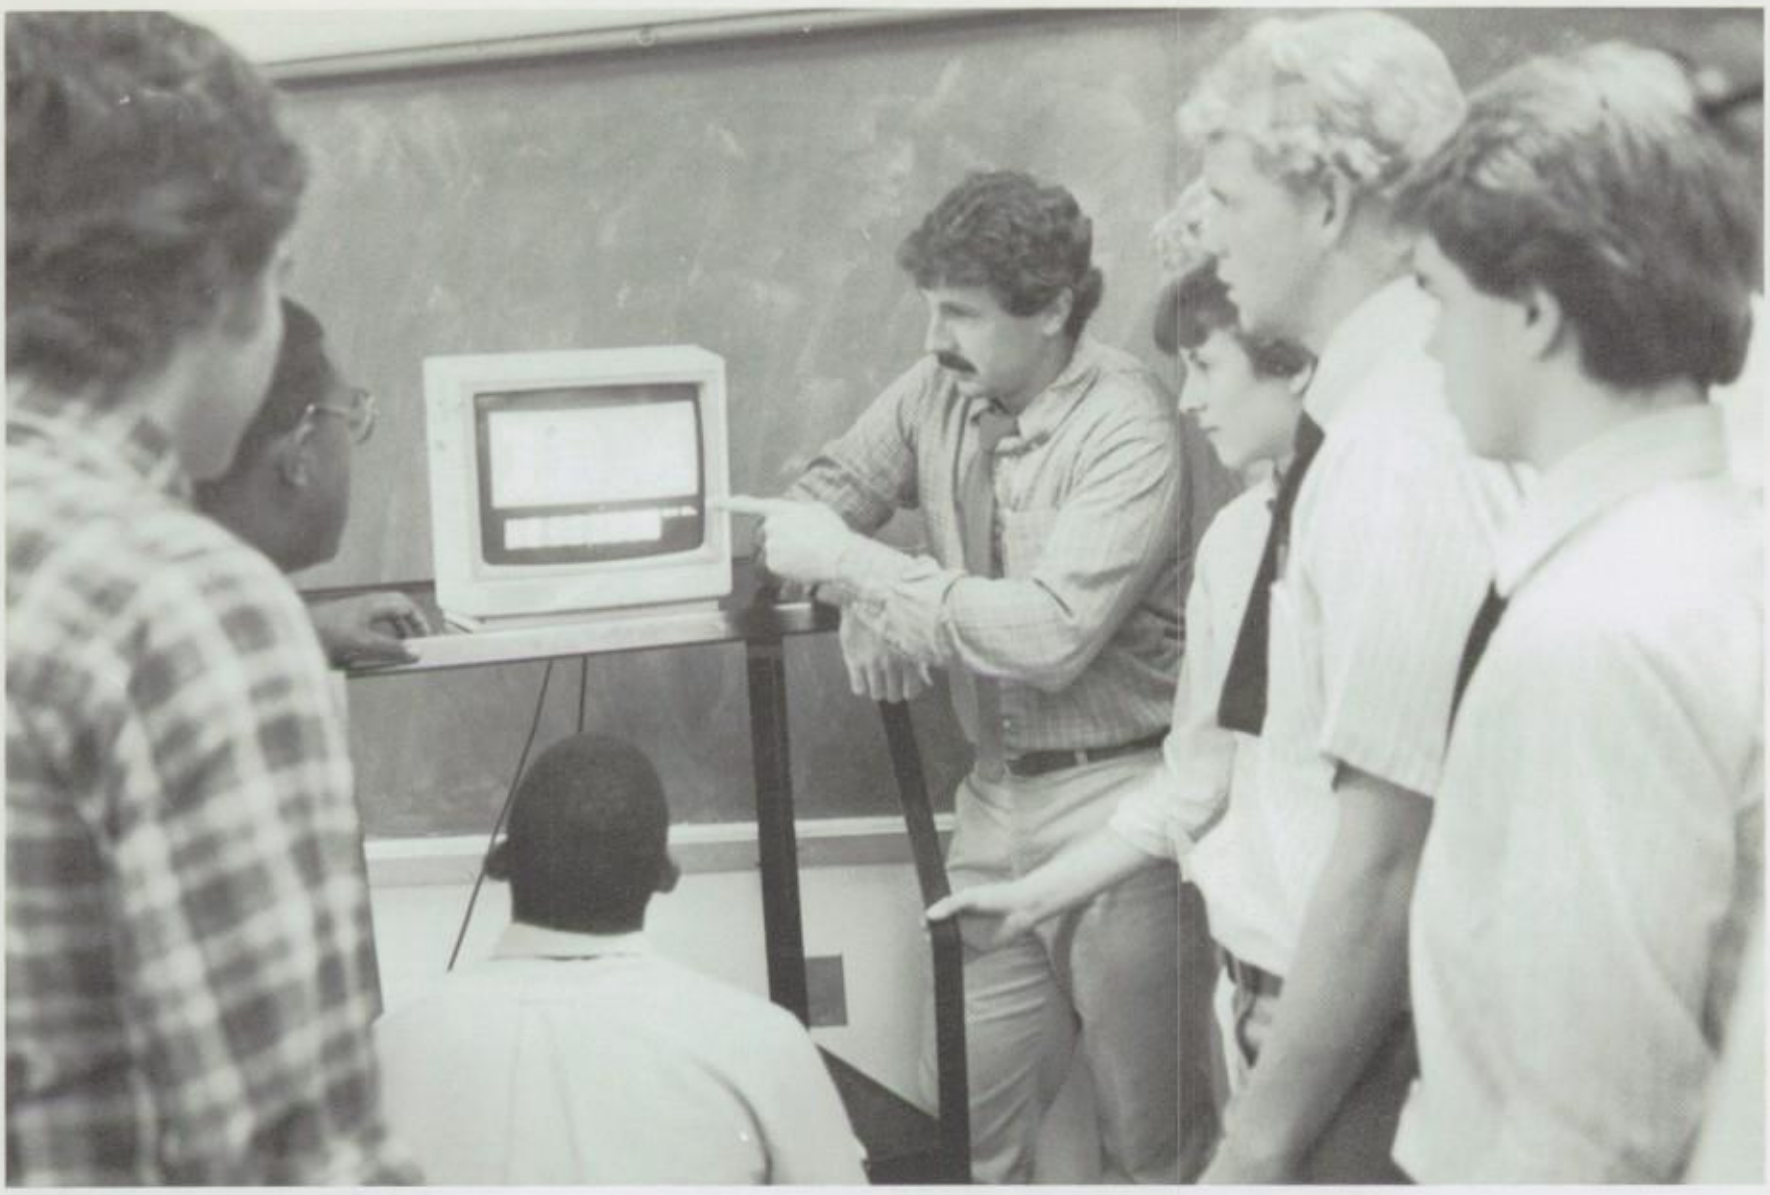
With the help of volunteers, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Kucharski and Mrs. Purvis, the new computer curriculum has been implemented successfully.

These new additions will give studuents an immeasureable head start on the technology of the future.



Millton Harrel practices his typing.

Mrs. Garmer and Shawn Hayes help James Bunner.



Mr. O'Brien explains the PC to his enthralled economics class.

Tim Moore types under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Kucharski.

"Catholic Schools: A Rainbow of Excellence"

There are far too many reasons why one should go to a Catholic school to be listed in a short article.

There are numerous statistics that could be thrown at you about the comparison of intelligence between public and Catholic school students, but let's stick to only one set. These deal more-or-less with human interest such as; Catholic schools have teachers who are more committed to seeing that students learn. Catholic schools find that their teachers say their work is more rewarding. More homework is assigned, and more of it is completed in Catholic schools. But most important Catholic schools do not safeguard student rights as much as public schools, yet students feel they are treated more fairly and have a greater control over their destiny. Having control over your destiny is the prominent thought of that phrase. One's destiny in life is decided in high schooland college by which courses he chooses. A Catholic high school, such as ours presents the foundation for countless careers, by the numerous types of classes it renders.

If you would rather have a solid base to build on when you start college than to cruise through a public high school, not going to college, and starting a career not because that's what you want to do, but because it's open and you need the money. This Catholic high school is for you. Catholic schools can give you that "base" that you are looking for. In fact, Catholic high schools can give virtually anyone the basis for a good career if he is willing to work for it.

Another aspect of Catholic school is the spiritual environment in which you learn. You learn to appreciate your own values and the values of others. This atmosphere also allows you to feel and more deeply understand the sacrifice Jesus made for us. This is part of your education that is mostly unconscious, you learn this without realizing it, but it stays with you. This aspect of education is present only in Catholic schools.

"Cardinalot"

Once upon a time, there was a large and imposing kingdom called Cardinalot. The ruler was King Hartman the Wise. He was faithfully counseled by his court magician, the Wizard Delciello.

A most famous institution of this glorious kingdom was the round table (actually it was square, but we are going to call it round because it sounds better that way). Of all the members of the round table, The Lords of Discipline were the most prominent.

It came to be, on a fateful day, that there was a tournament held in which the Lords of Discipline were to participate. In attendance at the tournament were many residents of the realm. Most of the spectators were Knights, Squires, Pages, or Serfs.

The Opening Ceremonies began promptly at noon. Sir Januck, Court Minstrel, played a wonderful tune that nobody understood. The first round consisted of a joust between Sir Forte, Lord of Arithmethia, and Baron Hargadon, Lord of the Clashing Colors. Baron Hargadon's outfit consisted of many colors none of which matched. The theory was that the colors disoriented his opponents. Baron Hargadon advanced to the second round after blinding Sir Forte. In the second round, Baron Hargadon continued his streak by defeating Sir Lange, Ruler of Streptococcus Lactis. Sir Lange was later heard mumbling something about muccous. After Baron Hargadon had defeated two worthy opponents, he became overconfident, and lost the third round to Sir DeFrances, Lord High Executioner, in hand-to-hand combat.

After the third round, a short intermission ensued. During this time, Sir Corbin, Court Cash Collector, and his band of assistants collected cash for the needy. Duchess Garmer was in the stands cheering and correcting everyone's grammar. Many people were ignoring her. Lord Hoos, Keeper of the Guiding Light, was conferring with the Wizard Delciello hoping to get the Light recharged, as it had gone out many years ago.

After intermission, the fourth round started. Arch-Duke Lubeheusen, Keeper of the Written Language jousted bravely, but Sir DeFrances won the round in record time. This is because Arch-Duke Lubeheusen was the only one in the kingdom who could write and, thus, he had writer's cramp during the battle. During the fifth round, Sir Jauquet, Court Historian, lost to Sir DeFrances, for he did not learn from the mistakes of times past. In the sixth and round, Sir DeFrances was defeated by Sir Foy, Court Wordsmith. Sir DeFrances complained that Sir Foy's constant flow of word pun's disoriented him. King Hartman ruled that this was irrelevant to the fact,and the tournament went to Sir Foy.

Thus, concludes another day in Cardinalot.

The Court Minstrels

These are very serious members of a group that means to show Baron Hargadon that his colors don't affect everyone.

King Hartman prepares to make another of his many wise decisions.

These are obviously fans of Baron Hargadon.

School Song

On the site of old Saint Mary's
In the town of Baltimore
There stands a place of learning
A school that shall endure.
The spirit of this family Stands out in every way.
A driving force behind us all
That lives from day to day.
Your halls resound the footsteps of students now and past.
Along life's path you've helped them And kept them unsurpassed.
So to thee, O Cardinal Gibbons,
We pledge our loyalty,
Your Honor e'er we'll carry
Your sons we'll always be.

Be the Best of Whatever You Are

If you can't be a pine on the top of a hill
Be a shrub in the valley — but be The best little shrub by the side of the rill
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.
If you can't be a bush, be a bit of the grass,
And some highway much happier make;
If you can't be a muskie, then just be a bass —
But the liveliest bass in the lake!
We can't all be captains, we've got to be crew;
There's something for all of us here.
There's big work to do and there's lesser to do,
And the task we must do is the near.
If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail;
If you can't be the sun, be a star;
It isn't by size that you win or you fail —
Be the best Of whatever you are!

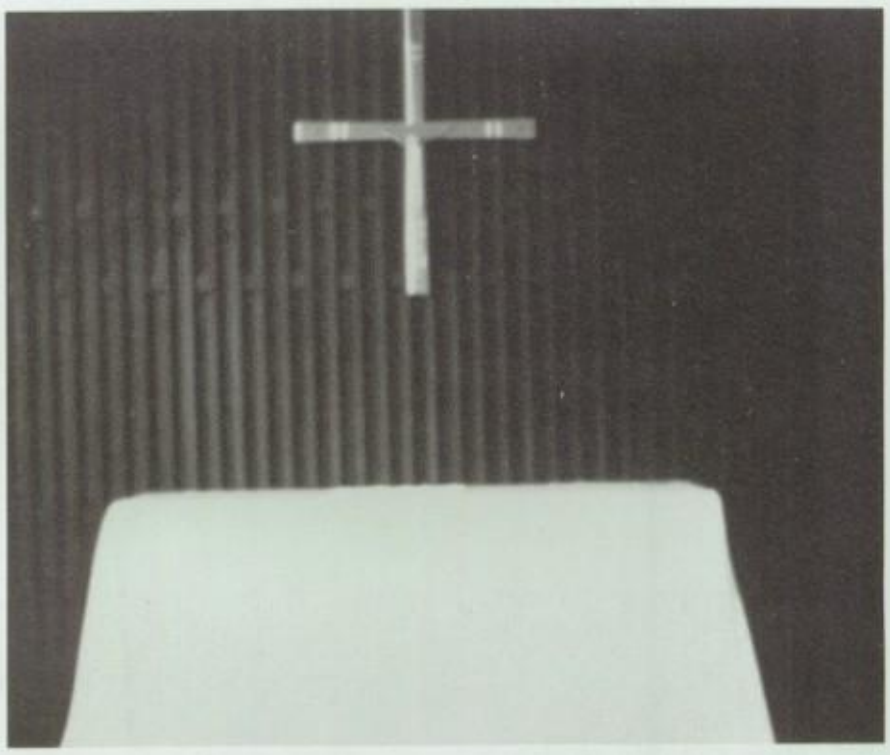
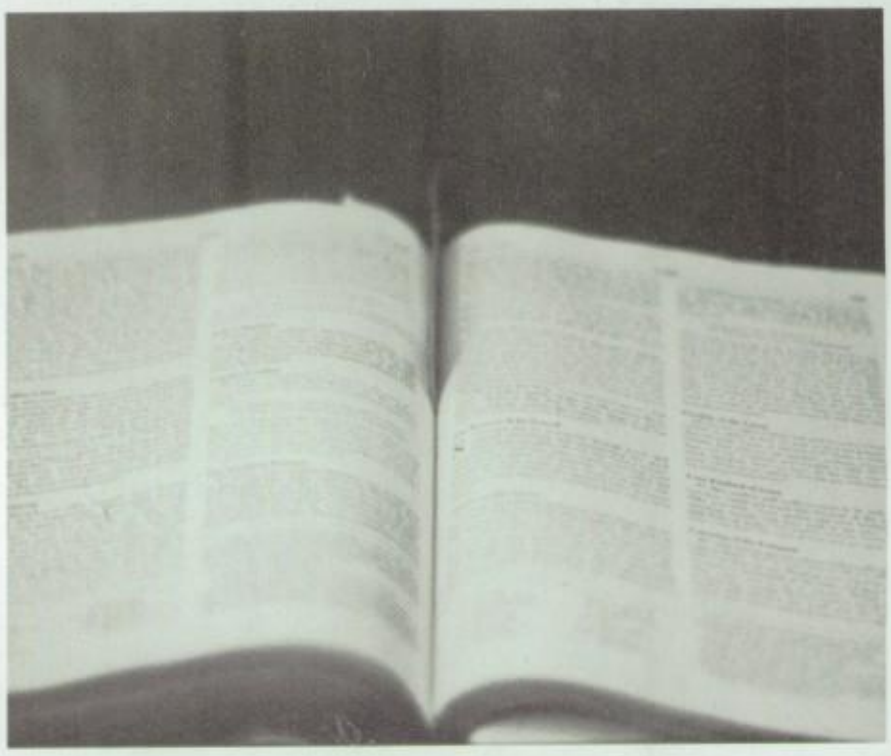
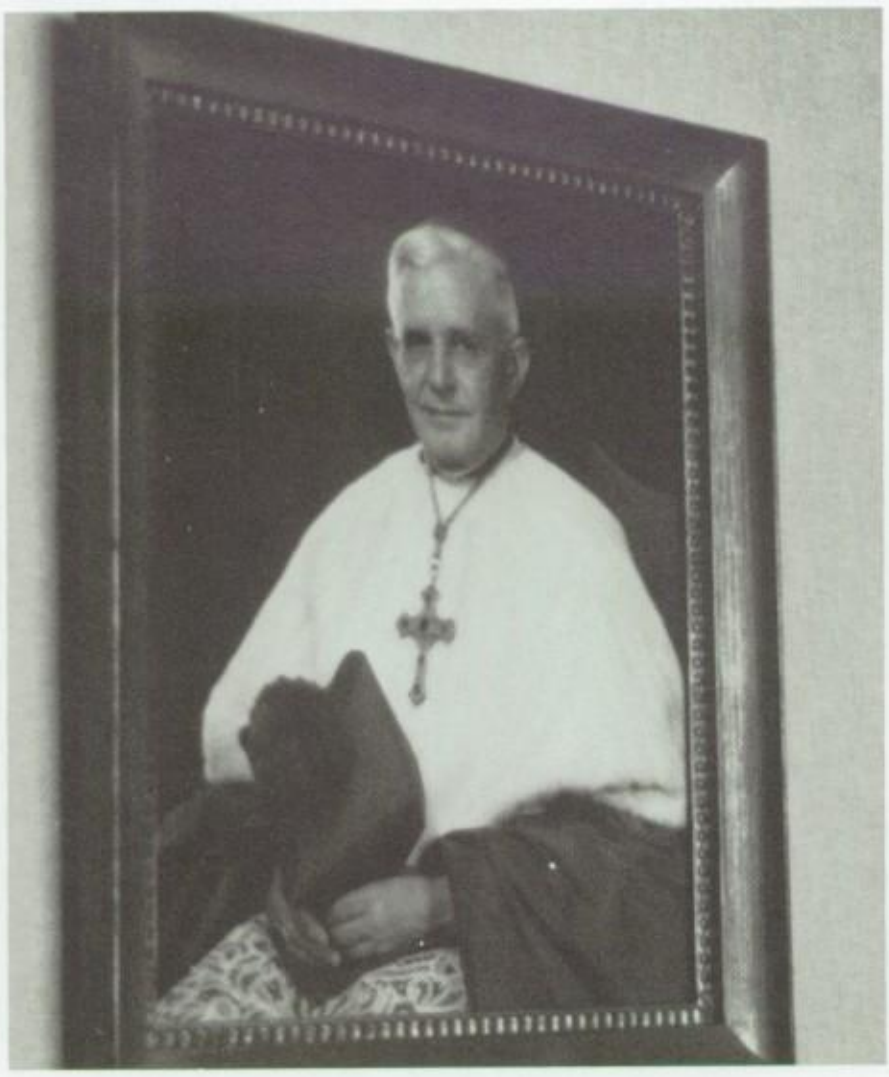
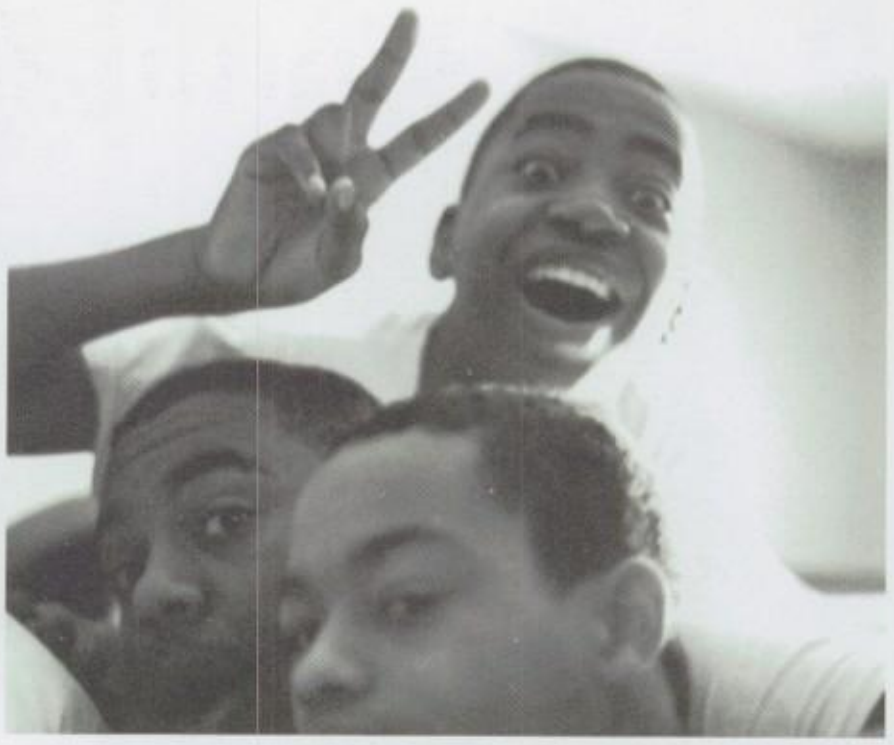
Junior Retreat









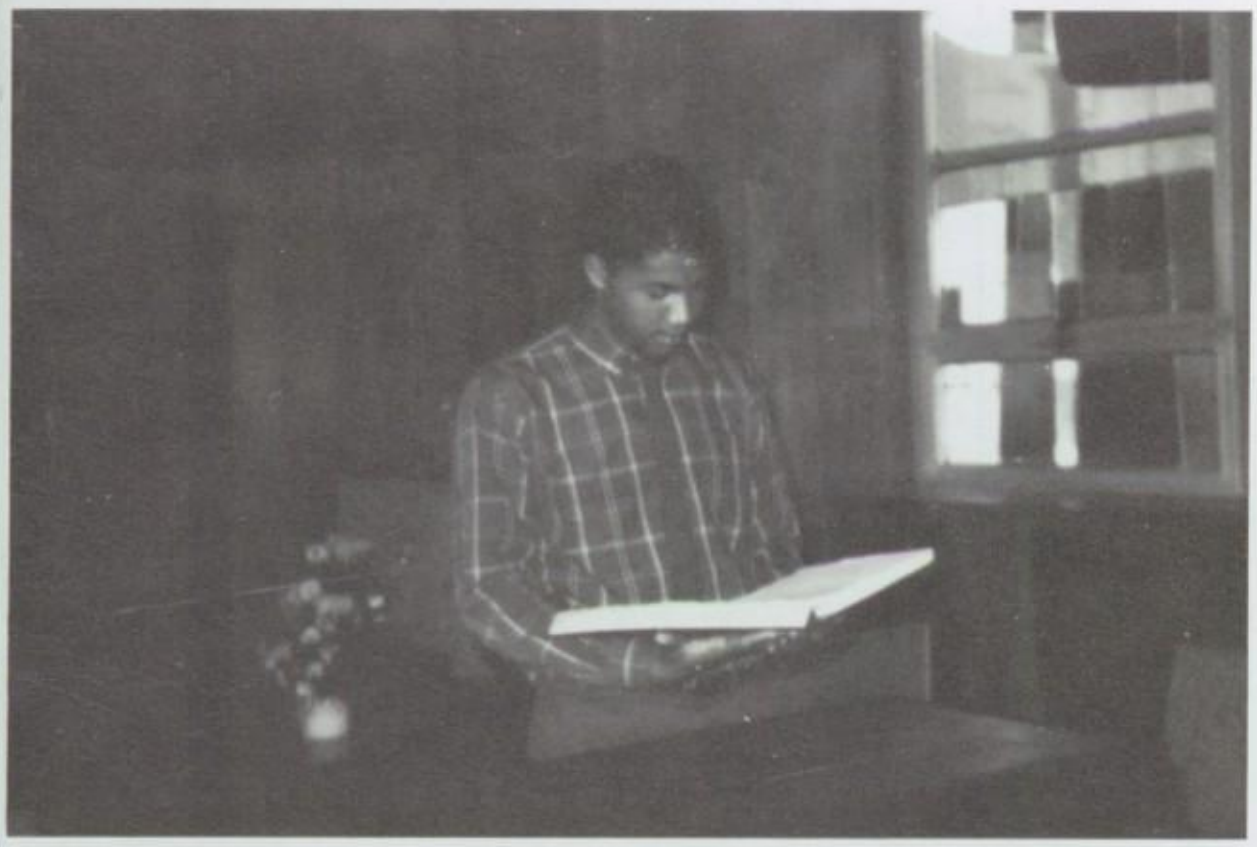
SOPHOMORE RETREATS

During December, the sophomores spent a day on retreat. The main purpose was for the student to learn more about himself and to develop a closer relationship with God.

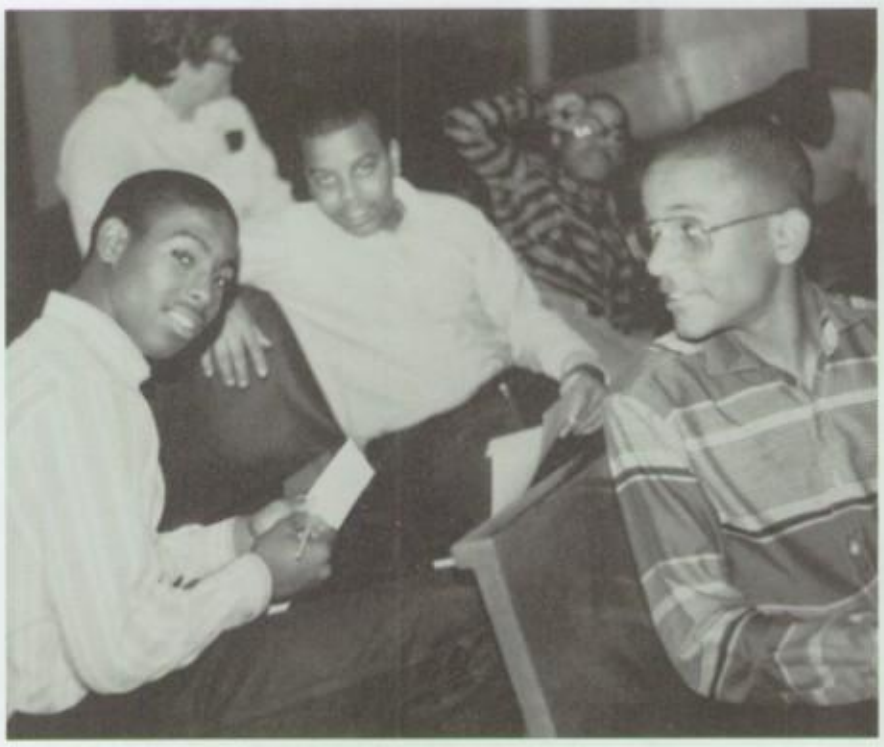
The retreats, which were held in the Brothers residence and chapel, were conducted for each religion class separately.

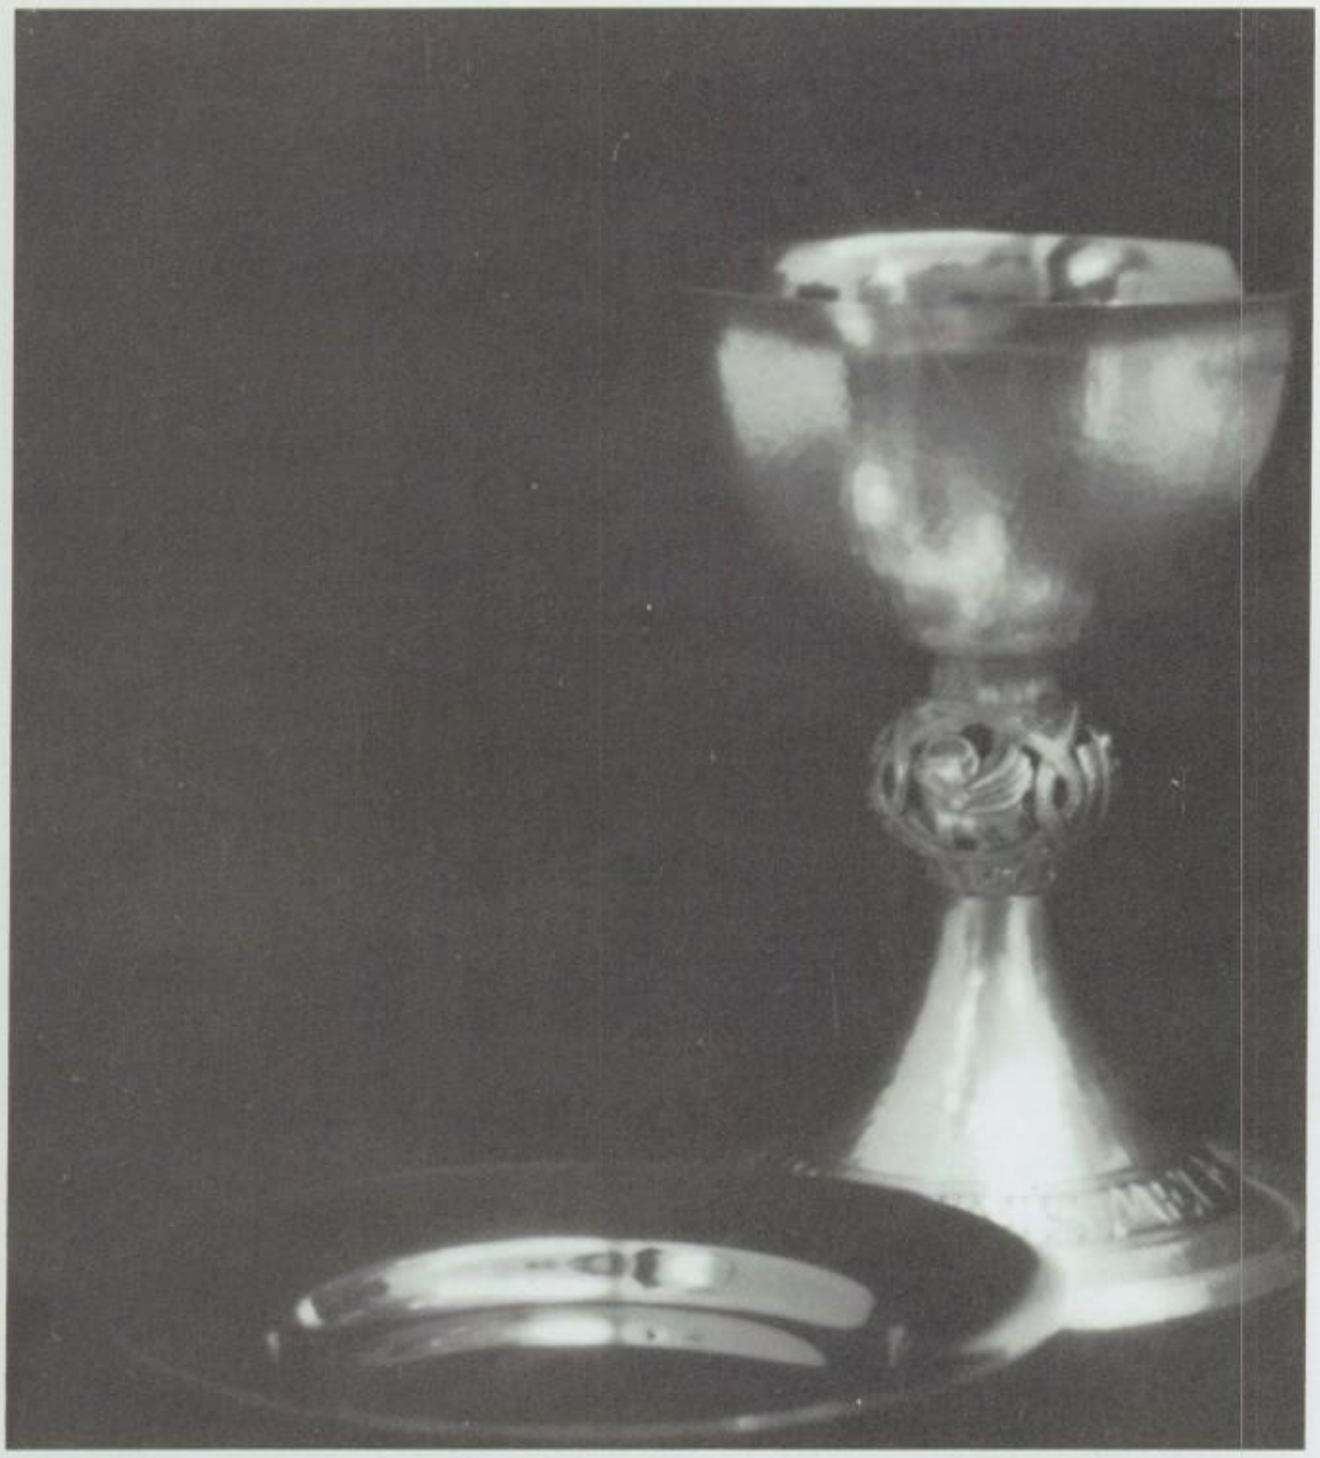
The retreats were organized and conducted by Mr. Charles Johnson and Brother Jack Venturra, S.M. with a small group but dedicated students.

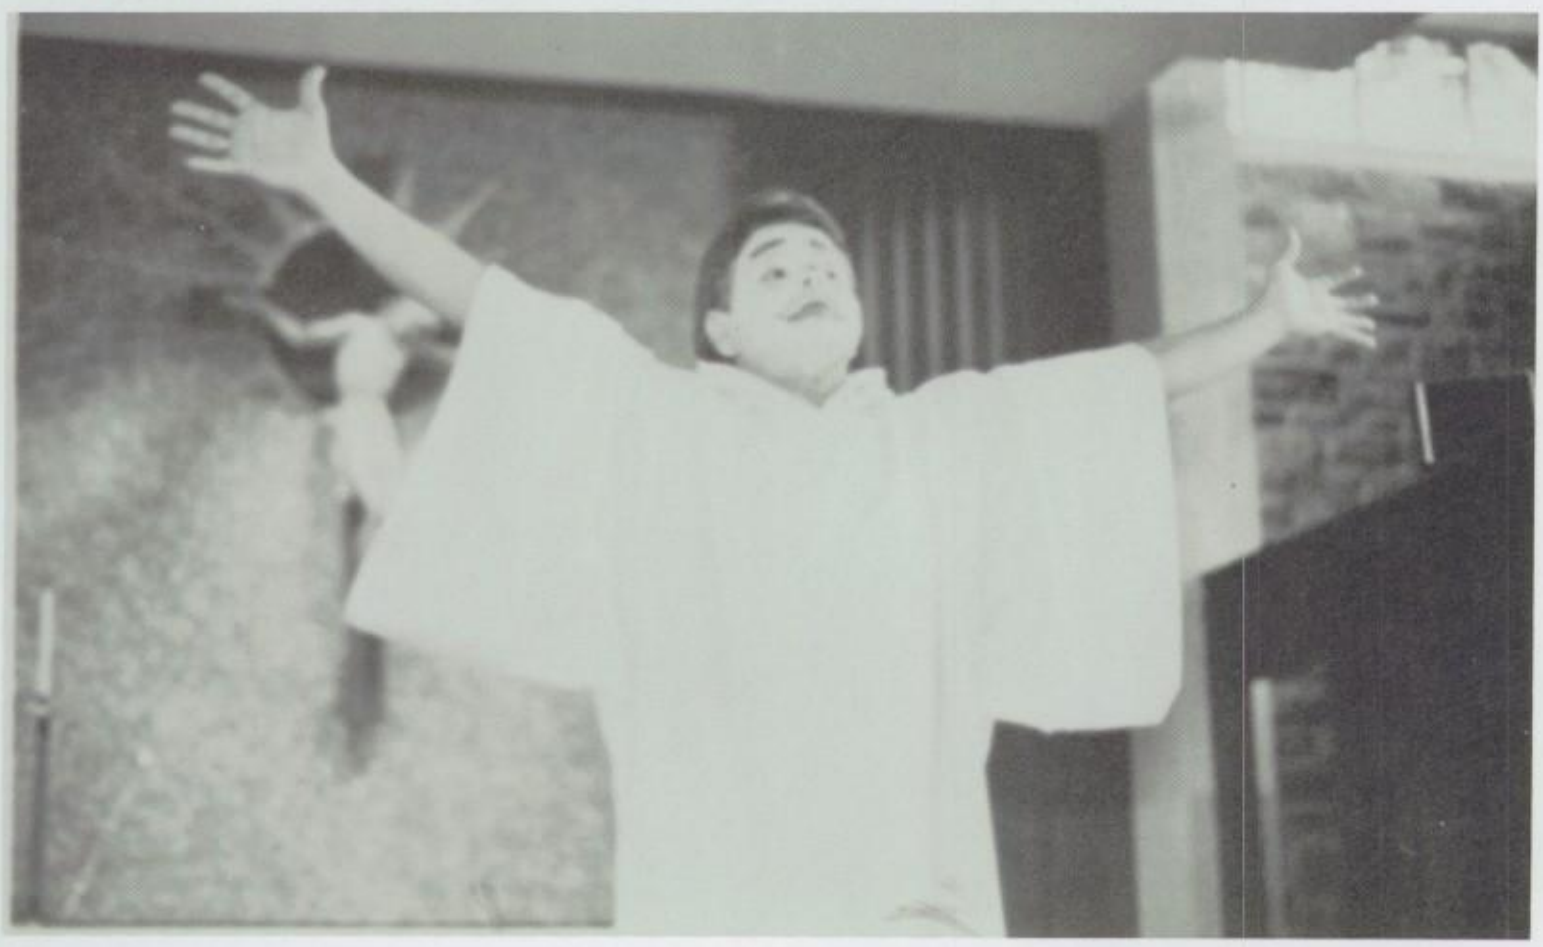
The combined effort was the main reason for the overall success. Though many of the students went with the idea of getting a day off from school, they came out with an experience they will long remember.



Freshman Retreat







Brother Jack's theatrical production of Jesus, the clown was a great help to us all. We were all more comfortable with knowing that people laughed at Jesus because he loved God too.

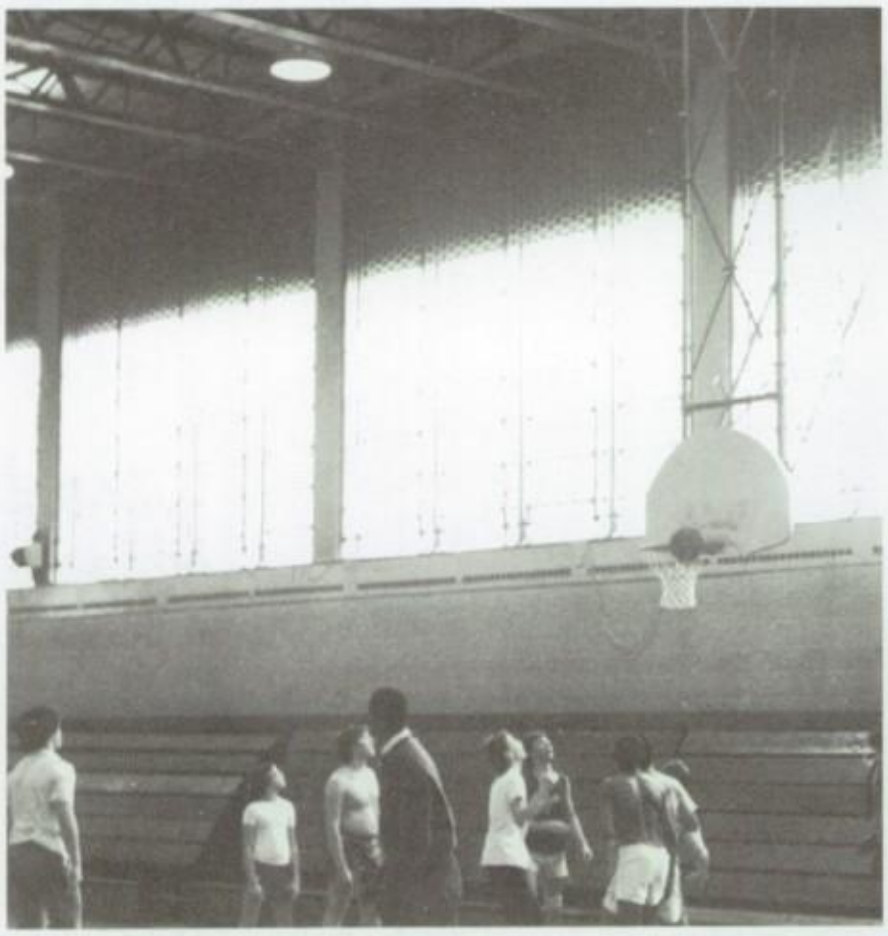
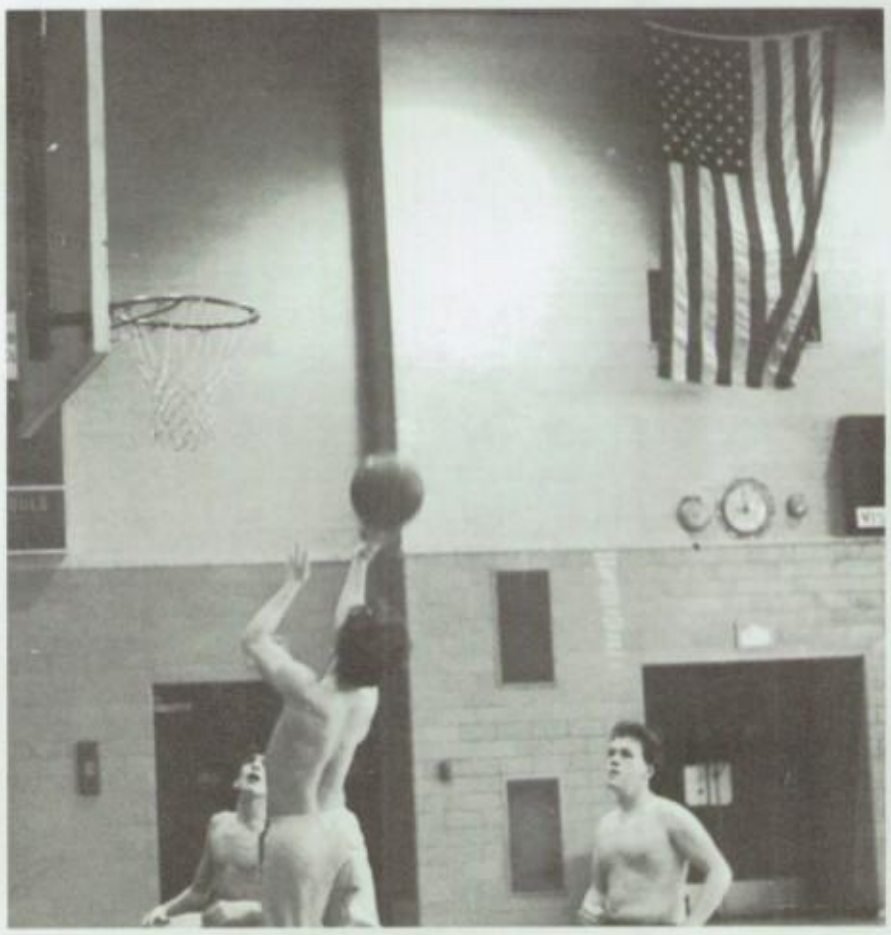
Sophomore Basketball

Mrs. Garmer's team won intramural basketball Championship.





Sophomore intramural football won by Mr. Luebehusen's team.

Volunteers

Volunteers are like yachts. No matter where they are, they arouse your curiosity. Who are they? Where do they come from? Why are they here? They could stay moored where it's safe and still justify their being, but they choose to cut through the rough waters, ride out storms and take chances. They have style. They're fiercely independent. If you ask them how much they cost, you can't afford them. Volunteers and yachts have a lot more in common these days. They're both a part of an aristocratic era that is disappearing from the American scene. They're a luxury in a world that has become very practical. Day by day, the number of volunteers decreases in this country as more and more of them equate their worth in terms of dollars and cents. Three years ago I did a column on volunteers in an effort to point out that they don't contribute to our civilization. They ARE civilization — at least the only part worth talking about. They are the only human beings on the face of this earth who reflect this nation's compassion, unselfishness, caring, patience, need and just plain loving one another. Their presence transcends politics, religion, ethnic background, marital status, sexism, even smokers vs. non-smokers. Maybe like the yacht, the volunteer was a luxury. And luxuries are too often for granted. One has to wonder. Did we, as a nation, remember to say to the volunteers 'Thank you for our symphony hall. Thank you for the six dialysis machines. Thank you for sitting up with a 16-year-old who overdosed and begged to die. Thank you for the hot choclate at the scout meeting. Thanks for reading to the blind. Thanks for using your station wagon to transport a group of strangers to a ballgame. Thanks for knocking on doors in the rain. Thanks for hugging the winners of the Special Olympics. Thanks for pushing the wheelchair into the sun. Thanks for being! ' Did the media stand behind them when they needed a boost? Did the professionals make it a point to tell them they did a good job? Did the recipients of their time and talent ever express their gratitude?

Start this team with the school's best distance runner. Add the " South Baltimore Connection " even Elwood & Capo. Include a freshman and a sophomore interested only in beating each others brains in. Be sure Fleming will post. Garnish with a kid named Eba and what do you have? Cardinal Gibbons 1985 Varsity Cross-Country Division Champions! Doug Ripley set a new school record. When he wasn't trying to barrel-roll down hills on the course. Don Meyett was the key addition to the club as he helped bring on Skelator & the Terminator who both had something to add to the team, but no one is sure just what that was. Bruce Holtman was a great freshman addition, when he wasn't bleeding. Dave Loetz helped ice a big win against Patterson with his best performance. James Evans helped nail a near shut out at Friends. Marc Fleming & George Jennings came out with little distance background to help the team & improve themselves for the track team in the spring. They did both & also helped give a pretty good demonstration of what Senior pride is. To comment on this circus with legs is simple. They were the best. Congratulations Champions!

Junior Varsity Cross-Country The question this year was not " Will Gibbons field a J.V. team? ", but rather " Can these guys make a run at the top? ". All they did was go undefeated, run great races against Forest Park, nearly perfect races at Herring Run against City College and the win against Carver was the highlight of the year for this young J.V. team. This was the best team effort of the year. Carver, the only obstacle between Gibbons and a Division Title, had a four year winning streak against the crusaders was snapped by one of the best Cross-Country teams in the schools' history. Combining with the unbeaten Varsity team, the J.V.'s performance went a long way towards fulfilling something this team wanted to be able to say from the beginning of their season, " No matter who wins it, the championship is going to have to go through Gibbons! " Cardinal Gibbons Crusaders — 1985 Division Champions!

Pride & Endurance =A Champion.

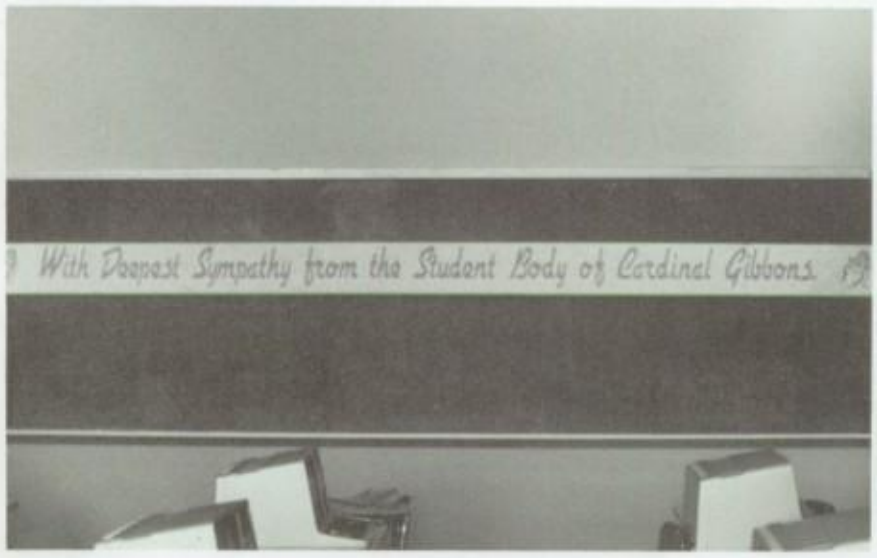
The seven members of the Space Shuttle 51-L are: (back row, left to right) Mission Specialist El Onizuka, Teacher in Space Participant, S. Christa McAuliffe, Payload Specialist Greg Jarvis, and Mission Specialist Judy Resnik; (front row, left to right) Pilot Mike Smith, Commander Dick Scobee, and Mission Specialist Ron McNair.



January 28, 1986 was the tragic day that America lost seven brave men and women. On that tragic day the Space Shuttle Challenger exploded. We, as a nation, mourned their death of these brave people who risked it all for mankind. Here at Gibbons we reacted and showed an outward sign of sorrow. We, as a student body, signed the banner that went to Christa McAuliffe's school. And on the two signs in front of the school we wished the crew God's grace.

6-alarm fire hits pier in Fells Point

Thick smoke filled the sky over East Baltimore yesterday as firefighters battled a six-alarm blaze that destroyed a harbor pier at the foot of South Bond Street.

About 150 firefighters used 38 trucks and engines and two fireboats to confine the flames to a structure on the 70-yard pier. Two firefighters received minor injuries.

A vacant warehouse just north of the pier received minor damage, and firefighters joined residents on nearby rooftops to prevent falling embers from sparking new fires.

The cause of the blaze, which drew thousands of spectators to Fells Point, was not known last night.

1986

Life without purpose is barren indeed —
There can't be a harvest unless you plant a seed,
There can't be attainment unless there is a goal,
And man's but a robot unless there's a soul . . .
If we send no ships out, no ships will come in
And unless there's a contest, nobody can win . . .
For games can't be won unless they are played.
And PRAYERS can't be ANSWERED unless they are PRAYED . . .
So whatever is wrong with your life today,
You'll find a solution if you kneel down and pray
Not just for pleasure, enjoyment and health,
Not just for honors and prestige and wealth . . .
BUT PRAY FOR A PURPOSE to MAKE LIFE WORTH LIVING,
AND PRAY FOR THE JOY of UNSELFISH GIVING,
For GREAT IS YOUR GLADNESS and RICH YOUR REWARD
When you make your LIFE'S PURPOSE the choice of the Lord!

A Word About Belonging.

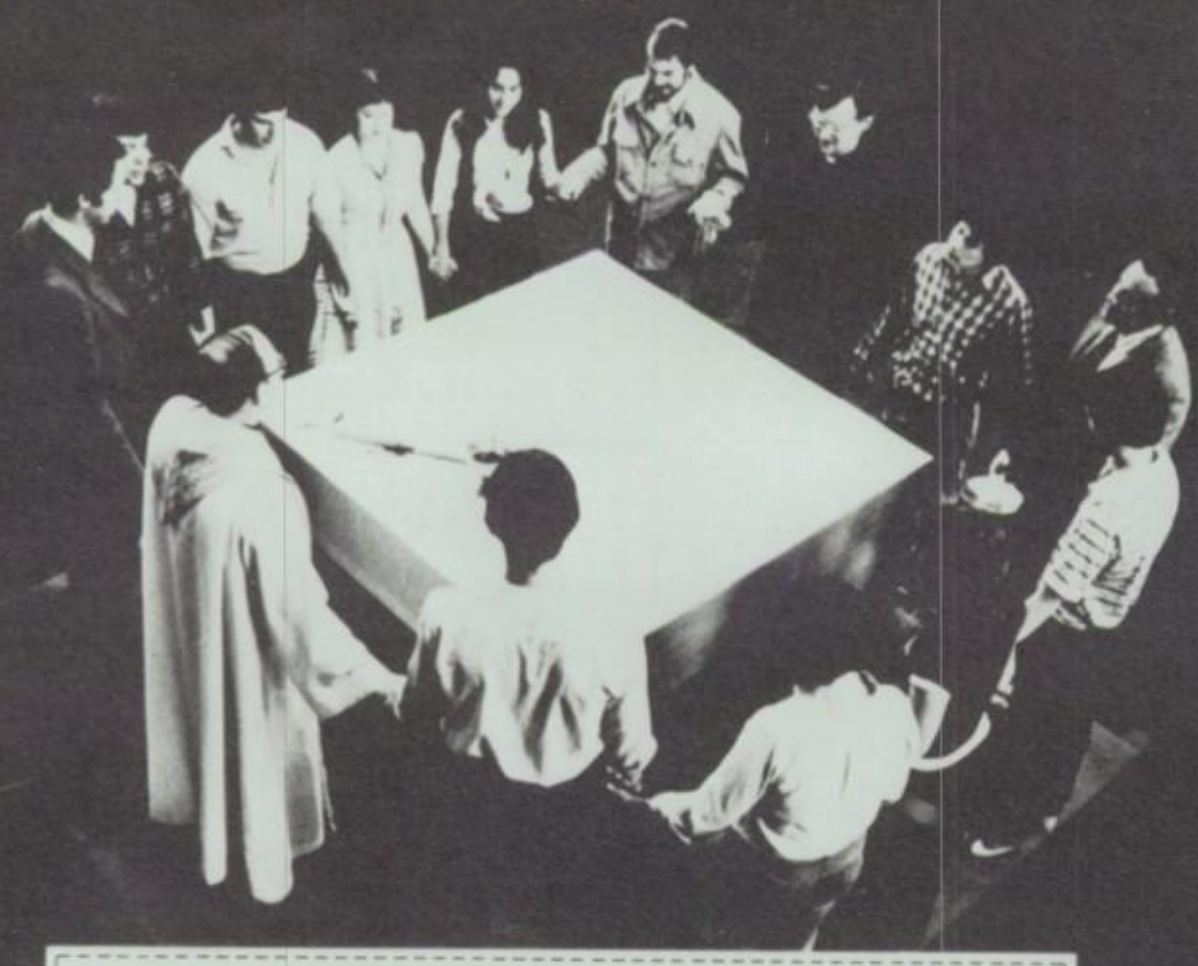
You and I need to belong.

We all want to be with. To belong to somebody, to something.

But not at the expense of our individuality.
It's precisely to offer our talents, not to supress them,
that makes us want to be part of something bigger.

There is a community of men who understand belonging.
Where individuality is treasured, and where mutual support
enables us to extend a healing hand to all people.

We are the MARIANISTS.



We invite you to belong.

Hold fast to dreams
For if dreams die
Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly . . .

Langston Hughes

Special Thanks

To Mrs. Garmer, Mr. Foy, Mr. Skip Wittich, and anywhere else that credit is due. Also special thanks to Eric Crouse's family for allowing us to use their IBM when ours "died" on the last day of school. This made it possible to finish our first TYPEVISION Crusader.
